YOUTH CAPTURED, PAL ESCAPES IN ALLEGED THEFT OF LEAD

ara went to the car, raised the hood and removed the spark-plugs, making it impossible for the two men to start the car.

They then returned to the grove of trees and watched the two men at work.

Lawton declared that they saw the two men take five or six strips from the lead mid to the car, loading their loot in the rear of the vehicle.

One Fives

Finally, after the leading had been completed and the two were preparing to enter the car, the watchers stepped out from the hiding places and challenged the two robbers.

At the first sound, one of the men ran while the second, Camis, attempted to hide under the car, police say.

McNamara and Lawton, who were watching the youth, saw him drop to the ground and sit under the car. A few seconds later McNamara and Lawton were beside the car and had placed Camis under arrest.

In City Jail

Covey and Mollo returned and reported that the second man had been taken into custody.

ADDING NEW BEAUTY TO OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE

New Ford bodies, in beautiful new colors, will be displayed
this Tuesday by Ford dealers

THE Model A Ford was a good car when it was first introduced. It has constantly been made a better car. As soon as improvements are found and tested they are passed on to the public. That work goes steadily on.

Now comes the time when another forward step can be taken and this policy of constant improvement given still further expression. On Tuesday of this week, a new line of Ford bodies will be displayed by Ford dealers.

The introduction of these new Ford bodies is of interest to every motorist. In flowing grace of line and contour—in the carefully planned harmony of every detail of design—they set a new high standard for a low-priced car.

A new, fresh beauty has thus been placed within the means of every one.

All of these new Ford bodies are finished in a variety of beautiful colors, with bright Rustless Steel head lamps, radiator shell, hub caps, tail lamp and cowl finish strip. All have roomy interiors. All bring you the safety, comfort, power, speed, acceleration, ease of control, economy and long-lived reliability that have given the Model A Ford such a high place in the regard of millions of motorists.

SET apart a little while this coming Tuesday to see these new Ford bodies. You will be particularly interested in the manner in which new beauty has been added to outstanding performance. In appearance, as in mechanical construction, craftsmanship has been put into mass production. Further details and illustrations of the new Ford bodies will soon appear in this newspaper.

HIGH CAGERS HAVE SHORT LAYOFF

There is a temporary lull in the activities of the Richmond union high school cagers, who are storing up their energy for the stress of a busy sea on in the Alameda County Athletic league. All basketball practice has ceased at the local high school until Thursday, when the Varsity and B loop squads will once more go into rigorous training. The high school athletes practiced steadily until Christmas.

The first basketball encounter of the Richmond union high school basketball season will be fought at Lodi against Lodi high school Jan. 10. The local high school will officially enter the Alameda County Athletic league Jan. 17, when the varsity and B teams tangle with the Hayward high school squads in the Hayward gymnasium.

The outlook for Richmond union high school in its first season in the league looks fairly bright. Although the Richmond varsity was sound wanting in pre-season contests with Crockett and Lowell high schools, plenty of first-class material was noted in the ranks of the local cagers. The Richmond Varsity had a fine defense, but possessed a rather poor offense. The local B's were a little more fortunate than the heavier outfit, and defeated the Crockett boys, although they later lost to the Dellies.

The local teams are at a disadvantage due to the fact that many veterans will not be eligible to play in the league. A number of the veterans have seen three seasons while on the Richmond high teams, and are therefore prohibited from playing again by the league ruling that no high school athletes can play for four years. A great many Richmond union high school stars also play with city league teams. The Alameda County Athletic league rules that no athlete can play on any other team while a member of the high school squad.

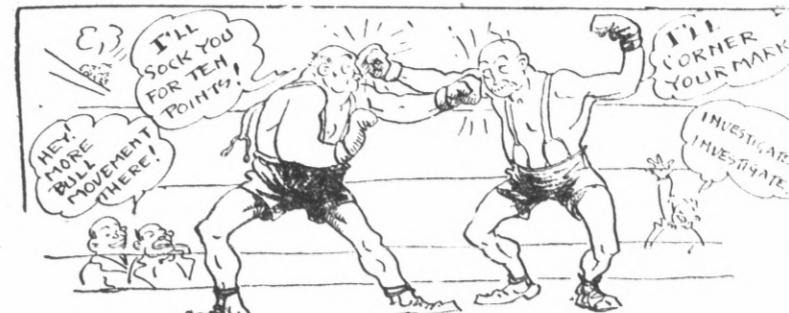

However, in spite of all the disadvantages, it is expected that Coach Ivan Hill and Phil Hempler will be able to produce a team fit to compete with the best squads in the league, because the local high school athletes have spent more time and energy in training than ever before. The squads have picked up several new tricks since last spring, and are once more ready to enter the cage season in full strength.

Motors 9 To Give Valves Hard Battle

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—(UPI) Oregon State cagers turned on St. Mary's hoopers tonight in their second meeting in Kzar pavilion and trounced the Gaels 33 to 20.

While Oregon played a much better game than last night when defeated 29 to 21, Butch Simas of the St. Mary's squad was again high point winner, scoring 13 tallies. The half time was 17 to 13 in favor of Oregon.

Oysters Obtain Pitchers Release

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 28.—(UPI) The Dallas baseball club today sold one of its pitchers for two barrels of oysters.

Oyster Joe Hartina, former Washington Senators hurler, and old time Texas and Southern leaguer, was offered his release for a barrel of shell food. Dallas scribes, however, intervened and showed where Joe was worth two barrels to the club last season as a relief hurler.

The two barrels arrived in Dallas today from Hartina's oyster house in New Orleans and his release was forwarded. Dallas sport writers were given one barrel to fight over.

Although all's quite in the local soccer world, the Richmond Soccer club will not be taking it easy today. A practice tilt will be staged on Nicholl field among the members of the local squad this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The Richmond Soccer club will be represented at the meeting of the East Bay Junior Soccer league to be held in Oakland on Jan. 6, according to Edward Davles, president of the local soccer club.

State Medical Board Watchful

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 28.—(UPI) California doctors are constantly under the watchful eye of the state board of medical examiners, which is a division of the state department of professional and vocational standards.

Investigation of violators of the medical laws comprises a large part of the work of this board.

Frequently the investigations require months of pain-taking intelligence, often extending far afield. At present the board has two cases pending in Italy which ramify into Switzerland, and one case in England.

Applications for licenses in California to practice medicine are also under the supervision of the board.

'TUFFY' LAUDED STANFORD GRID SQUAD BEATS ARMY TEAM

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—(UPI) Had some one told old John La Tallyvan that a fellow whose given name was "Gerald Ambrose" might one day be heavyweight champion of the world, some fellow would have been in need of carpenters, painters and whatever you call the fellows who put in new mirrors.

John liked excuses to tear up things and "Gerald Ambrose" probably would have been all the excuse he needed.

But the fight world has changed since Sullivan's time. (Witness a Shakespearean fighting heavyweight champion for instance.) And right now there's a fellow named Gerald Ambrose Griffith who thinks he can whip anybody in the world and he isn't alone in the belief.

The middlewest has known for six months that Griffith was destined to get some place in the heavyweight division, but the east, rather hard to convince that anyone out here can fight, maintained aloofness toward Gerald until he cuffed out a decision over Johnny Reka in New York last night.

The east may be pardoned for its aloofness when one takes into consideration the fact that Gerald alighted horizontally on the floor and stayed there for a ten count in his first eastern appearance. That's the only time Gerald has been on the floor. He found out what life canvas felt like when Jimmy Braddock landed a right cross. Gerald felt pretty bad about it all until informed that the same right cross broke Pete Latzo's jaw in three places and he opines now that he's glad he hit the floor so quick that Braddock could get in only one punch.

As is usually the case in the building up of a heavyweight, Gerald started out by knocking over fighters of more or less doubtful merit. Ten of his 14 heavyweight opponents have been on the floor, when "ten" was toller. But for that matter in the early victories of Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney one finds names which were not heard of before and haven't been heard of since.

But now with victories over Paulino Uzcudun and Johnny Risner, Griffith has convinced the east that he has something—convincing it so well in fact that he may get the big money which will be paid to Jack Sharkey's February opponent in Miami.

While discussing on middle westerners who are title contenders the name of Earl Mastron comes to mind. As fast and game as they come, Earl has eyes on the featherweight title. The middle west thinks he would have little trouble in whipping Bat Battalino, the present champion, and it wants him to meet Kid Chocolate, the Cuban who has pleased the east. Chicago interests are trying to obtain Chocolate's services for a Mastro match and Battalino can get anything within reason if he wants to fight Earl in a title bout here.

Fans here think it won't be long until the middle west will be in possession of four of the titles. Already it has two champions, Sammy Mandell, lightweight and Jackie Fields, welterweight. It wants the heavyweight and featherweight titles and it believes Griffith and Mastro can win them.

Rabies Reported Near Antioch

Antioch, Dec. 28.—The situation of the county is becoming serious with one more suspected case of rabies reported in Byron recently.

A dog, believed to be inflicted with the disease, is reported to have bitten some stock in the vicinity of Byron. The animal was inspected by a veterinarian yesterday, but whether the case is positive or not will not be known until the head of the dog is sent to Berkeley for official diagnosis.

(Continued from page one) sensational gains. In 11 tries the cadet gained a total of 48 yards, an average of 4.4 yards per effort. His longest run was one of 15 yards, when he gave Pacific coast fans a glimpse of the great speed and elusive action that carried him to All-American fame.

Cagle's passing and kicking was of high order and only bad passes from the Army center enabled the Cardinals to stop his thrust on several occasions.

Murrell worked more smoothly at the start than Stanford, jumped into the lead with a touchdown early in the first quarter. With Murrell and Cagle carrying the ball, Army went to Stanford's five yard line. Then 10 Army men tried to put Murrell to the one yard line from where the cadet fullback plunged across on the next play. Army's second touchdown came on a forward pass in the second quarter. Cagle tossing to Dick Hutchinson, who ran 30 yards to the goal line after he had shaken off Fleishhacker and his two mates had taken other Cardinals tacklers out.

That was the Army's last threat, and from that time on Stanford was never in a doubtful position. Stanford added two points to its score in the second period when a bad pass back to Murrell behind his own goal caused him to fumble. He picked up the ball and passed incomplete to safety, but officials ruled the play a safety.

In scrummage, Stanford completely played the Army off its feet with a gross yardage gained from rushing the ball of 257 yards against 97 for the cadets. Smalling, Frentrup and Cagle ripped off gains almost at will for the Cardinals, while Cagle and Murrell were the only Army men able to penetrate the Cardinal defense.

A fake reverse, brought out of the closet by Pop Warner for the Army game proved particularly baffling to the cadets and it was this play that enabled Smalling to drive so effectively through the West Point line.

The game saw three great stars pass from intercollegiate football competition. Smalling and Fleishhacker played their last game for Stanford, while it was the final appearance of Cagle on the Army team. Capt. Donald Muller also passed from the gridiron as a player at the end of the game. Muller saved an Army touchdown with his recovery of a fumble in the third quarter.

PAINFUL CORNS

Loosen—Lift Out

A little known Japanese herb, the discovery of an eminent German scientist (Dr. Stickle) instantly soothes the corn, callous or wart, then loosens it so that shortly you can lift it right out. This new discovery called "Corn Fly" excites the white blood corpuscles to action and granulates the corn at its root so that it drops out and leaves no trace of scar or soreness.

You will also find "Corn Fly" powder a boon for sore, tired or corned feet.

"Corn Fly" for corns, 35c, "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" 25c, and "Corn Fly Bunion Remedy" 50c, (all three $1.10 value—for $1.00), are sold under a positive money-back guarantee by Hi-Gen Co., Newark, N. J., or local druggist.

REDDING, Dec. 28.—(UPI) All by herself, Mrs. R. E. Pyle, Shasta county's only woman trapper, shot and killed a bear weighing 500 pounds near her little farm on Dog Creek.

The bear had been raiding Mrs. Pyle's orchard, and the woman decided to put a stop to it. One evening she glimpsed the bear and took a shot at it. It inflicted only a wound.

She trailed the bear until nightfall, and took up the search next morning. Finally she came upon the wounded bear and dispatched the animal with a bullet through the head.

THE WOMAN OF IT

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

FOGGY NIGHT—NEW YORK

My room is a boat on a foggy winter night; the streets are quiet, and sleeping row on row; the red and green of a port or starboard light forge paths of color through mazes of drifting snow.

When I close my eyes I can hear the wind on the sea, with the fog-horns piercing the stillness at every hand; and the mist from the ocean spreads like a canopy over waves that crash with their foam on the darkening land.

My room is a boat, and the city lies at her keel; My bed is a hammock swung above dashing spray; And the worry and fever of towns cannot dog my heel When I turn to the open seas and sail away!

MARGUERITE JANVRIN ADAMS.

If We Didn't Keep Christmas!

EVEN the children are allowed to keep Christmas in Russia this year—

The Soviet authorities have decreed that there shall be no observance of this festival—

Stores in Moscow are prohibited from selling Christmas trees—Nor may stores display Yuletide articles in show windows.

Persons who cut Christmas trees and sell them will be prosecuted—The police have been told to arrest any Christmas tree bootlegger,

And hours for school and work on Christmas Day will be unchanged—Can any woman read this bleakest of news despatches from Soviet Russia Without a shiver?

It doesn't matter how tired you are, from Christmas shopping—How poor you feel—

How disgusted you may be with what seems like Christmas commercialism and calculation—

Yet, when the year's most magical day is so near,

How can you help remembering the gay, happy, tender associations of it—The glittering phantasmagoria of Christmas past and to come?

How can you help shuddering at the thought of what life would be if we didn't keep Christmas?

You remember Christmas when you were a child—The excitement and mystery before hand,

The thrill of being shooed laughingly out of the guest room—Just after you had surreptitiously discovered that its closet was locked,

The maddening fashion in which your mother and aunts were always covering up bits of sewing—

When you appeared unexpectedly—(For, in those days, even if a little girl didn't always have a new doll for Christmas,

Yet she could be sure of new, exquisitely nice dolls' clothes)—The saver, allowance, the hard labor, the important sacrifice—

Which you happily devoted to the dolly you adored, or the bed slippers you adored for the dolly—

The laughing delight of Christmas morning, when you sat on the floor, hugging that long black stocking—A stocking topped with a lovely, fair-haired doll.

But the even more beloved new book,

Stuffed with games, a silver thimble in a velvet-lined box, a dear little brooch with a blue stone.

And always, a large gold orange in the toe—

(For in those days oranges were not the commonplace of every breakfast table).

There's a woman, you remember the Christmas of your own children—A Christmas-tree Christmas this one, probably—

Since the size of modern Christmas

SUCCESS

Let the rain come down in buckets—Let it seep into my shoes—Not a thing can damp my ardor, now.

What a world to be alive in! Isn't it a gorgeous place!

Let the rain spoil my new bonnet, and I'll trudge down my face!

Waugh, my dear! I'm so delighted, I've got a little smile.

Sent it to THE WOMAN OF IT—Now I have it framed at home.

Oh, I guess I'll still read Shakespeare, might as well, 'cause he's all right—but the amateurs just bore me!

Whatever else may go!

ELSE.

"What good is a bonus?" asks the advertisement of the East River Savings Bank. "The question," sighs the Private Secretary, of the Victim of Deflation, "is purely academic!"

For those days oranges were not the commonplace of every breakfast table.
